Project Title: Tama Website

Designer/Developer: Alec O'Brien

Style Concepts
- More neutral colors, maybe only one accent color
  - Official website has good example of color palette:
    https://www.wakayama-dentetsu.co.jp/

- Less content, so could all fit on one page
  - Layout similar to Moomin website: https://www.moomin.com/en/

- Light-hearted, less serious tone
  - Less contrasting elements/colors and no sharp lines

Content
- Emphasize that Tama helped to save the station from closure (significance)

- Wikipedia page has a good amount of content
  - Maybe look for other news sources for more details

- Wikipedia has a good amount of images that can be used
  - Wikimedia Commons might also have other images
  - Images are important in showing Tama and legacy

Meeting
- We will communicate through text to give pointers and meet sometime
